

First, I would like to thank Miss Nancy for everything she did for us. This semester was the last one, we concluded with Integral Calculus, at first it was quite easy but tedious, just as when we started with Differential Calculus last semester. But, that does not make Calculus bad or anything, it makes you pay attentions to the numbers, if it is positive or negative, etc. The activities were never so long, the number of exercises per activity was good, I know that in other schools they ask for a homework with fifty or more integrals, and I find that, not only boring, but excessive, I have always thought that to learn something you have to practice and practice, but not in an excessive way. During the semester, especially during second semester I had some problems that affected my grades, I was not focus in school or in anything, fortunately I feel better now, I am going to end with my best.
