Dianabol can be used to "kick start" a steroidal cycle for the first 4-8 weeks, waiting for the longer esters to become fully active in the blood, can be used alone as a cycle or can be used at the end of a cycle leading to coming off of anabolic steroids. It is not suggested that Dianabol is used as a "bridge" in between steroid cycles. As this is the case, many inaccurately assume a post cycle Dbol PCT plan is not necessary; again, this assumption is inaccurate. Of course, we can make an exception as it applies to a Dbol only cycle, but from the Dbol only cycle link you understand such a cycle is rarely recommended on the basis of maintaining any gains.

A short Dianabol only cycle will give you faster progress in muscle gain in a short duration. But bear in mind, discontinuing the dosage of this steroids may result in immediate muscle loss. By using the Dbol with other oral anabolic steroids, you may retain your muscle gains but it's not guaranteed! official statement
