Dosage. Testosterone enanthate is a clear or yellowish fluid that comes in a 5-milliliter (ml) glass vial. It is injected into the buttocks muscles every one to four weeks. To avoid the changing hormone levels, and the mood swings that may come with them, lower doses are often used over shorter intervals. Testosterone esters in oil injected intramuscularly are absorbed slowly from the lipid phase; thus Testosterone Enanthate can be given at intervals of two to four weeks. Testosterone in plasma is 98 percent bound to a specific testosterone-estradiol binding globulin, and about two percent is free.

Warnings. You should not be treated with testosterone if you have prostate cancer, male breast cancer, a serious heart condition, severe liver or kidney disease, or an allergy to castor oil or sesame oil. Testosterone Enanthate is not for use in treating low testosterone without certain medical conditions or due to getting older.
