

42 Creative Topics for Persuasive Essay Writing

Essay writing is one of the essential traits that you would need to acquire during academics. With so many different forms of essays, one must be able to comprehend the prompt and then respond properly.

There are multiple types of essays, such as persuasive, rhetorical, argumentative, etc. All these have certain rules that you must follow in order to complete them successfully. Missing out on the essentials can result in a lackluster essay in the end.

One issue that arises is the topic selection. Persuasive essay topics can be quite tricky to choose for an essay writer if they have been given an open choice. You must have full command over what you are trying to persuade the other about. Here are some topic ideas for you.

Persuasive Topic Ideas

- Overreliance on technology is harmful.
- Capital punishment should not be banned.
- Social media use is leading to loneliness.
- Standardized testing methods should be changed.
- Artificial Intelligence will improve human life.
- Cybersecurity is an essential aspect of the modern world.
- Diversity in the workplace leads to positive outcomes.
- Bullying should be considered essay writer.
- Social learning should be adopted in school, and teaching methods.
- The online education system needs to be more effective.
- Telecommuting should be promoted.
- College athletes need to receive a higher paycheck.
- Break time should be increased in schools.
- Unmonitored smartphone use can be dangerous among children.
- Technology has the capability to replace humans.
- The medical use of marijuana should be legalized.
- Nurture is more important than nature.
- The legal drinking age should be increased.
- Is the judicial system unbiased?
- Healthcare should be more manageable for everyone.
- Immigration should not be avoided..
- The use of CGI in movies has enhanced storytelling capabilities
- Global warming is a serious threat to humanity.

- Industrialization is responsible for global warming.
- Will space stations help humans?
- Same-sex marriages should not be restricted.
- Students should be given free choice of the disciplines from an early age.
- Spanking is a harsh punishment and shouldn't be allowed.
- People should be more accommodative towards the mentally/physically disabled.
- Violence in video games does not affect the human mind.
- The effect of marketing on young minds.
- Should esports be given the same status as regular sports?
- The newer generation is not lazy.
- Censorship is important when dealing with online platforms.
- Population control and its importance.
- Advantages of communism.
- Was there really a moon landing?
- Is grading fair in educational institutes?
- The unethical aspects of cloning.
- Animal testing should be considered against the law unless for extremely important purposes.
- The importance of a University degree.
- Have sci-fi movies taken over traditional cinema?

Persuasive essays demand precision and should be written with full determination. Remember, you are trying to convince others about your viewpoint, and you can not lack in any department. An essay writing service usa can help you in this regard. You just have to convey the necessary details. Whatever the case, a lot of the success of the persuasion depends upon your selection of ideas and how you support your claims.

You should avoid at all costs making false claims just to make yourself superior. The more you reply to using false data and claims, the weaker your persuasive argument will be. You have to perform thorough research on the matter to excel in the assignment. I had the same issues, but then I asked a specialist to write my essay. It helped me boost my confidence and get some handy tips.

Apart from the strength of your persuasion, you must use proper language. To support your ideas. The language used should be carefully chosen and must have the necessary determination. It would allow the proper transmission of information, and people can immediately connect with the ideas you are trying to portray. It can also help to establish a call to action towards your ideas.

However, still stuck in the topic-selection phase, consult the paper writing service.